The billboards (2) require a 3-month commitment of $900/month and $1,000/month, respectively. The cost to produce the vinyl and install it is $1,250 each. We would also like to pay our graphic designer $500 total for the project.

After speaking with JR Promotions about pricing, they did mention that they would throw in a free month on one of their digital boards in close proximity to the Franklin exit. This is a $1,000-$1,200 value that would be built into the advertisement package. Total, the cost of the billboards is around $9,000.

The remaining $3,000 will go toward radio, paper, and online advertisement. These funds will wholesomely be placed in the Discover Business Fund, an account exclusively for (and accumulated by) our local businesses.

During the unprecedented threat of COVID-19, the City of Franklin's local businesses have faced tremendous hardship. Complying with Governor Holcomb's Executive Orders led many business owners to close their doors, which resulted in uncertainty and economic disintegration. As the State of Indiana slowly reopens, members of the community are searching for ways to once again assist our small businesses. Discover Downtown Franklin feels that we are approaching a time where it is acceptable to promote visitation and tourism once again. We, as an organization propose a marketing campaign project, specifically dedicated to our downtown businesses and the re-opening of Franklin. This marketing campaign would advantageously use advertisement billboards along I-65, along with other common modes of advertisement, including radio, social media, and the newspaper.

The advertising potential for the billboards has a proven track record. A local downtown merchant utilized this advertising medium last year and referenced its success. A number of first-time customers informed the shop owner that they specifically learned of her business through the billboard message. This project is intended to build upon that success.

The two billboards of interest are located along I-65 North at mile markers 90.88 and 89.97, respectively, both extraordinarily close to the City of Franklin's exit. Located to the west of the highway, the billboard proximity to northbound traffic is ideal. Discover Downtown Franklin, along with the collaboration of other local nonprofit organizations, wants the billboard to convey a simple, positive message referencing that downtown Franklin is open for business.

Pricing was acquired from JR Promotions. Each billboard is a three-month commitment, costing $900-$1,000 per month. There is an additional cost to produce and install the vinyl, of which is $1,250. Lastly, we plan to compensate the graphic designer a fee of $500. For a three-month commitment (projected August 2020 – October 2020), this comes out to ~$8,700 for both billboards. Additionally, JR Promotions has offered to throw in a one-month free slot on a digital board in close proximity to the Franklin exit. This particular marketing material is priced at a value between $1,000 and $1,200. We are applying for a total of $12,000 – the remaining ~$3,300 that is not designated to billboard costs would go toward the print, radio, and online advertisements.

The primary objectives of the billboard installations and other media coverage relates to Discover Downtown Franklin's desire – accompanied by the Franklin Chamber of Commerce, Festival Country, Franklin Heritage, Inc., and the Franklin Development Corporation – to build back up our businesses post-pandemic. The messages of the billboards will remain simple: "Charming Franklin has re-opened," or "Shop Local." The close proximity of the billboards to one another is a marketing strategy; our hope is that the repeated billboard (its message varied slightly) will increase the impact of the message, drawing more people to visit. Furthermore, spreading the message over multiple platforms will only improve interaction rates. As for the number of individuals to be positively impacted within the City of Franklin, we not only account for the downtown retail and restaurant establishment owners (~50) and associated employees (~150), but the projected ripples of stimulated business out into the rest of the community as well.

Concerning the responsibilities and organization of the project, I, as the Executive Director, would carry out the conversation between JR Promotions and Discover Downtown Franklin, locate a graphic designer, and contact local radio stations. Our social media coordinator, Anna Kocken, would promote and share the billboard content and locations on our social media channels. Anna would also organize the online promotions and newspaper advertisement. We plan to evaluate this project through surveying business owners and opening business owner discussions through Discover Downtown Franklin's Quarterly Business Meetings. Quarterly Business Meetings allow downtown owners to collect updates on downtown happenings. Through the survey and conversation, we can specifically ask about customer references toward the differing advertisement strategies.

Discover Downtown Franklin feels the success of this project stems from a steady increase in downtown traffic and exposure of I-65 travelers to the option of stopping in Franklin. The marking campaign is structured in direct conjunction with the negative impact of COVID-19. While there is the option of sustaining or reinvigorating the billboards due to the JR Promotion offer of holding onto the graphics, the general goal of guiding travelers to Franklin is a one-time project in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

As mentioned previously, there are several other organizations supporting Discover Downtown Franklin, and more specifically the billboard project itself. The Franklin Chamber of Commerce, a 501 (c) 6 organization, feels that this is a creative way to support their member businesses in the downtown area. Franklin Heritage, Inc. understands that the billboard installation can directly affect both the Artcraft Theatre and Madison Street Salvage visitation. Similarly, Festival Country predicts an increase in Visitor Center attendees. These organizations have also been impacted by COVID-19 – whether it be movie cancellations, event postponements, or the closing of doors in general. We feel that the billboard project, made possible by this grant, will wholesomely benefit our community.

JUST SOUTH OF INDY

Franklin Economic Development Commission Franklin, IN

Dear Franklin Economic Development Commission members,

Festival Country Indiana, the official tourism agency for Johnson County, wholeheartedly supports Discover Downtown Franklin's efforts to obtain grant funding for a billboard campaign. The campaign would be designed to get motorists to stop in downtown Franklin and spend their money in this time when such spending could be the very thing that helps our businesses survive.

Festival Country recently paid to have INDOT "Visitor Center" signs installed on northbound and southbound I-65 at the Franklin exit, and we added the Visitor Center to the city's way finding signs. That, combined with Discover Downtown Franklin's billboards, is likely to encourage motorists to view Franklin as a destination worth visiting for shopping, dining and attractions.

In the short time our Visitor Center has been open in downtown Franklin, we have talked to several visitors who said they decided to check out Franklin and were impressed enough to think about moving to Franklin.

A grant to Discover Downtown Franklin could have immediate benefits, and could also lead to people becoming repeat visitors and perhaps even homeowners or business investors.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Kosky

To Whom It May Concern:

The Franklin Development Corporation writing to acknowledge our support of Discover Downtown Franklin's efforts toward the Billboard Project and application for funding through the Economic Development Commission Fee Grant. We, too understand the tumultuous reality brought upon local business owners by the COVID-19 pandemic, and feel that a marketing campaign designed to stimulate our community's economy would be especially beneficial at this time.

As organizations closely associated with the City of Franklin business community, both Discover Downtown Franklin and ourselves, the Franklin Development Corporation, are confident that a simplified, attractive message conveyed on several billboards along I-65 could draw in a rate of tourism lost and not so easily replenished since the occurrence of the virus.

Furthermore, we feel that many of our members will either directly or indirectly prosper from the ripple effect of consumerism that will stimulate the steady re-opening of Franklin, restoring our identity as a central Indiana destination.

We wholeheartedly support Discover Downtown Franklin in their application for the Economic Development Commission Grant in relation to billboard and advertisement funding. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Krista Linke, Director

To Whom It May Concern:

Franklin Heritage, Inc. is writing to acknowledge our support of Discover Downtown Franklin's ventures toward the Billboard Project and application for funding through the Economic Development Commission Fee Grant. We, too understand the tumultuous reality brought upon local business owners by the COVID-19 pandemic, and feel that a marketing campaign designed to stimulate our community's economy would be beneficial.

As organizations closely associated with the City of Franklin business community, both Discover Downtown Franklin and ourselves, Franklin Heritage and the Historic Artcraft Theatre, are confident that a simplified, attractive message conveyed on several billboards along I-65 could draw in a rate of tourism lost and not so easily replenished since the occurrence of the virus.

Furthermore, an influx of visitors could directly improve attendance at both the Artcraft Theatre and Madison Street Salvage. The billboards are another key piece in letting others know that we are ready for business and are part of the steady re-opening of Franklin, restoring our identity as a central Indiana destination.

We wholeheartedly support Discover Downtown Franklin in their application for the Economic Development Commission Grant in relation to billboard and advertisement funding.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Economic Development Commission 70 E Monroe Street Franklin, IN 46131

To Whom It May Concern:

The Franklin Chamber of Commerce is proud to collaborate with Discover Downtown Franklin to pursue the Economic Development Fee Grant. Shortly after businesses and restaurants were ordered to close or severely restrict business operations due to the COVID-19 crisis, a task force was created to help with re-opening our economy. Representatives from the Chamber, Discover Downtown Franklin and the City of Franklin met numerous times to strategize ways to promote the downtown's eventual re-opening.

A marketing campaign was created which includes a social media campaign and the "Franklin Hearts" posters and t-shirts that are seen throughout the city. The group also hopes to include billboard advertising to introduce travelers to our city and remind residents to support local businesses. The billboard is a key piece to the campaign, but the cost prevented the group from moving forward with the project. This grant would be instrumental in funding billboard rental fees.

The Chamber and Discover Downtown Franklin are committed to economic growth and quality of life for the Franklin community. A billboard will attract residents and tourists who will visit local businesses such as restaurants, lodging, and retail. By strengthening our downtown businesses, all of Franklin will be supported in this marketing campaign. A city with a healthy downtown is the vital to a strong community.

On behalf of the Franklin Chamber of Commerce, I enthusiastically submit this letter in support of Discover Downtown Franklin's pursuit of the Economic Development Commission grant to fund a billboard which is a key piece in the re-opening campaign for downtown Franklin.

Thank you for your consideration,

Melen

To whom it may concern,

Every community aspires to achieve success, but each defines it differently. As the Johnson County chamber of commerce and economic development organization, it is our job to help businesses and community partners overcome obstacles toward success, driving growth and opportunity. This among many other reasons is why we support the billboard project as led by our community partners at Discover Downtown Franklin.

Tourism is a critical component to economic development. According to Festival Country, Indiana and Certec, tourism annually contributes $255 million to the Johnson County economy and supports 2,291 jobs. Franklin small businesses greatly benefit from this impact because the City of Franklin is the hub of Johnson County tourism and a Central Indiana tourism destination.

But the pandemic shutdown had a chilling effect on an otherwise hot economy. Results from economic impact surveys conducted by Aspire Johnson County over the last three months showed that over half of our County's businesses lost at least half of their weekly revenue. As businesses reopen from a months-long closure and consumers begin to venture out, we believe a marketing campaign to help drive dollars (literally) into town will benefit the economy.

We support our partners at Discover Downtown Franklin in this pursuit to stimulate the local economy. We urge you to help jumpstart these efforts through the Economic Development Commission Fee Grant.

Ever onward.
